

Modernizing Development Assistance
in the Age of the Sustainable Development Goals

講師 Saul Helfenbein 先生

元長崎大学国際連携研究戦略本部教授

For over 4 decades, Prof. Saul Helfenbein has focused on strengthening health systems in Africa, Asia, and Latin America to improve access, quality and affordability of reproductive health, safe motherhood and HIV/AIDS services. He was Deputy Director for 8 years of the USAID and WHO/AFRO Strengthening Health Systems in West and Central Africa. At Management Sciences for Health, he led global efforts to strengthen management, research, and leadership capacity and served as the director for 12 years of the FASID course on designing and implementing HIV/AIDS projects. In 2006 and 2007, he was Professor of Public Health at Nagasaki University where he collaborated on the establishment of the School for Tropical Medicine and Global Health. There, since 2008, he has taught a module on financing global health. He has also taught at Harvard University and Boston University schools of public health.
